Privacy Policy

Version date: 23 September 2025

NOTE: This privacy policy applies to all our games. However, please note that the section entitled "Cookies and Other Technologies" applies only to our websites, and not to our games. We may translate this Privacy Policy into other languages. If there is any difference between the English version and other language versions, then the English version, subject to applicable laws and regulations, shall prevail.

Welcome to Anuttacon!

We have kept this privacy notice as simple as possible to help you make informed decisions when using our services. Our aim is to ensure that you know and understand what personal data we collect (Section 1), how we use it (Section 2) and when we share it (Section 6).

We are committed to your privacy. When you use our services, we only process your information for purposes outlined in this Privacy Policy, such as to enable safe, personalized conversations and interactions with our game characters, as well as improving the quality of these conversations and gameplay. The content of your in-game conversations will never be used or shared for marketing or advertising purposes.

1. WHAT DATA WE COLLECT AND PROCESS

A. Data We Collect and Process:

i. Account Registration Information Provided by You. Details such as, your email address, password, date of birth and mobile number (if necessary). This helps us provide you with account creation, management, and game login services among other uses outlined in Section 2.

ii. Game Data. Your gameplay interactions, like which features you choose or choices you make.

iii. User Generated Inputs. What you type and say when playing our games, to facilitate your gameplay, with more specifics in Sections 2 and 3.

iv. User Service Information. Information that you provide to our technical and customer support teams, or when exercising your legal rights as a data subject.

v. Inferences. Inferred data based on your interaction with our game characters, such as predicting your interests and likelihood of responding to certain topics and questions.

vi. Other Information Subject to Specific Notice. Where necessary, we will develop individual privacy notices to inform you how we process your personal data.

B. Data Automatically Collected

i. Basic System and Hardware Data. Data collected from your operating system via standard Windows API and/or by third-party platforms such as Steam.

ii. Platform, Internet Protocol (IP) Address and Device Data. Data such as platform type, device name/model/ID and your IP address.

iii. Game Account-Related Data. For example, your gaming account ID and user ID.

iv. Data Shared by Third Parties. When you choose to log into our services via your social media account(s), information related to your social media account such as your OpenID, username/nickname and email address may be shared with us.

v. Cookies Data (website only, not in-game). Information collected through cookies and similar technologies when you access our websites.

Note: If we collect and/or process personal data other than as described in this privacy notice, we will provide more information to you in accordance with applicable laws.

Please note that when you use or interact with third-party services that may be available on our services (such as logging in with a third-party social media platform), this Privacy Policy does not and will not extend to such services/features, which will be subject to the respective third-party privacy policies. We encourage you to review their terms and privacy practices directly.

Some important notes regarding processing of your personal data:

- We do not sell your personal data, period. Put more plainly, we do not sell your audio, text, or gameplay data to advertisers or third parties.

- We collect your audio inputs for the real-time speech recognition features in our games, so that our game characters can better understand what you say.

3. MODEL TRAINING, USER-GENERATED INPUT AND SENSITIVE PERSONAL DATA

Model training

Like many AI-powered experiences, we use your user-generated input to train and improve our models. You can opt-out of model training anytime in your game settings. To do this, after loading the game, before clicking "Start", go to the settings option on the top right-hand corner and turn off model training on the checkbox beside "Improve the model for everyone". Opting out will not affect your gameplay and progress.

User-generated input

Please remember that the characters in our game are entirely fictional and not real individuals.

Our game characters are designed to create more personalized and natural interactions by asking about your conversational preferences or remembering in-game details you shared. This allows for individualized, safe and engaging conversations that feel more human and tailored to you. The content of your conversations helps our characters learn and improve, making future interactions even better.

Notwithstanding, to protect your privacy, we ask that you avoid entering highly personal or sensitive information into our games and to refrain from sharing any personal information of a highly personal or sensitive nature. Please let us know if you have any concern about any aspects of gameplay or interaction. Our contact details can be found below.

Sensitive personal data

Our games allow you to input information that may be sensitive and subject to special protections under applicable laws. First, we do not request or intend to collect sensitive personal information, such as details about your race, ethnicity, political views, religion, health, biometric data, criminal history, or trade union membership. We do not need this data for any purpose and kindly ask that you avoid sharing any such information with us. However, if you choose to provide any information of this nature, you consent to our use of it for the purposes set out in this Privacy Policy. Note that we will not use your sensitive information or any content of your conversations for marketing or advertising.

Requests to delete conversations

At any time, you may request for us to delete all your conversations with our game characters by emailing us at help@anuttacon.com. Please note, however, that this means that you may lose your current game progress, as well as access to our games and services unless you create a new account.

4. LEGAL BASIS OF OUR DATA COLLECTION AND PROCESSING

We are required to disclose the legal basis for processing your data under certain applicable laws, including the GDPR. To the extent that such laws apply to you, we rely on the following legal bases to collect and process your personal data:

i. Necessary for us to comply with our service agreement.

ii. Conducted with your consent, especially when legally required (you may email us at help@anuttacon.com at any time to withdraw your consent).

iii. Necessary for us to carry out our legally stipulated obligations.

iv. Necessary for us to protect your important rights and the important rights of others (unless there is a conflict of interest between these rights and your rights).

v. Necessary for our legitimate interests and those of third parties, including our rights to provide innovative, direct marketing, and secure services to our users.

5. COOKIES AND SIMILAR TECHNOLOGIES

* This section only applies when you access our game's official websites, not to your in-game or gameplay experience.

Our websites may use cookies or authorize third-party tracking utilities to enhance functionality and track site usage. These tools may collect technical information like your IP address to identify user paths and repeated visits, collect referral sources, and gather technical data about your devices, software, and operating systems. We use this data to analyze how people use our website, remember your preferences, improve website performance, and deliver relevant advertising (where applicable), and support other functions outlined in Section 2.

If you prefer not to accept cookies or want to be notified when they are placed, you can adjust your browser settings, if supported. While disabling cookies in your browser is possible, doing so may limit the functionality of certain parts of our services.

6. INFORMATION SHARING

Your trust matters to us. We understand how important trust is when using our services, and that's why we are committed to protecting your privacy and keeping your data secure. Our policies are designed with care to safeguard your personal information, so you can enjoy our immersive gameplay experiences with confidence and peace of mind.

Your in-game data is safe with us. We take your privacy seriously and ensure that your in-game data is kept secure and private. It's never accessible to other players or third parties without good reason. Rest assured, we do not sell your data, whether it's audio, text, or gameplay data, to advertisers or anyone else for profit. This data is exclusively yours and securely stored, reflecting our commitment to your privacy and security.

However, there are certain situations where sharing your data with third parties may be necessary, as outlined below. By providing your personal data, you understand and anticipate these specific disclosures, which are always handled responsibly and with your privacy in mind:

A. Affiliates

For the purposes set forth above, some of your information may be processed by our affiliated companies, provided that such affiliates comply with the terms in this Privacy Policy. "Affiliates" in this Privacy Policy shall mean an entity that directly or indirectly controls, is controlled by or is under common control with Anuttacon.

B. Competent Authorities

In certain situations, we may need to disclose data to governmental authorities if required by applicable laws or regulations, or if it serves the public interest.

Beyond legal obligations, we may also disclose data if we, in good faith, believe it's necessary to protect our rights or take action in specific cases, such as: (a) if you violate agreements with us (like our Terms of Service or Privacy Policy) or cause harm to us; (b) if you infringe on the rights or interests of others, including intellectual property rights; or (c) if it's necessary to prevent fraud or other illegal activities. We only take these steps when necessary and always with your privacy and security in mind.

C. Service Providers

We may work with the following types of trusted third-party service providers to help us provide services and functionalities to you:

i. Social networking portals (who may be considered our partners in some countries) who provide login and/or content-sharing service to and in our services.

ii. Technical partners or other service providers who assist with services like hosting, analytics, or customer support.

These providers may use cookies or similar technologies on our website (not in-game) to support essential functionality or measure site usage.

All such partners are required to handle your information securely and in compliance with relevant data protection laws. We only work with service providers who meet our standards for privacy and data handling.

D. Business Partners

We may run collaborations or special events with business partners. Where appropriate, your personal data may be shared with these business partners in order to carry out the event, deliver prizes, and follow up on any events which you had opted in for.

When specific third parties are involved in collecting data and information, we encourage you to refer directly to their privacy policies on their official websites and learn more about their data processing practices.

E. Others

We may also disclose your information to other third parties with your permission, after notifying you and where necessary, with your express consent.

7. DATA RETENTION

We retain your data only for as long as necessary to provide you with our services or to comply with legal requirements. This means we keep your data while your account is active or only for as needed to provide you with our services, unless deleted in accordance with your request or where we are required to do so under applicable law.

The servers for our services are primarily located in the United States. By using our services, you acknowledge and agree that your data will be collected and processed on our servers which may not be located in your country/region of residence and can be accessed by our support, engineering and/or our affiliates around the world.

No matter where our servers are located, we will make great efforts to adopt the appropriate safeguards to guarantee your rights in conformity with this Privacy Policy and any applicable laws and regulations.

Where required by law, we will only store your information as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes for which the information is collected and processed or where the applicable laws and regulations provide for longer storage and retention period.

8. YOUR RIGHTS AND CHOICES

Subject to applicable laws and regulations, you may possess the data protection rights listed below. To exercise these and other statutory data subject rights, please contact us using the details in "Contact Us".

To protect your account and personal data, we may request additional information to verify your identity before processing your requests. In some cases, we may refuse requests as permitted by laws or charge a reasonable fee if your request is repetitive or excessive.

i. Right of Access: You have the right to access your personal data, including details about its collection, categories, disclosure, sources, purposes, and request a duplicate by submitting a verifiable request to us.

ii. Right to Correct: We strive to keep your personal data accurate and up-to-date, and you may request its rectification or modify it by contacting us.

iii. Right to Erasure: You may have the right to request the deletion of your personal data, subject to legal considerations. By deleting your account, you will lose access to our games and services, unless you make a new account.

iv. Right to Opt-out of Marketing Communications: You can unsubscribe from any marketing messages that we might send you by clicking on relevant links.

v. Right to Complain: You have the right to complain to relevant data protection authorities.

vi. Right to Withdraw Your Consent: You can withdraw your consent for data processing. Withdrawing your consent for processing will not affect prior lawful processing but may limit our ability to provide services to you if the data is essential for their delivery.

Withdrawing Consent for Model Training: You can withdraw your consent to authorize us to collect and process your data for the purpose of model training by checking the "settings" page in our application and unticking the relevant checkbox. Once you turn this off, any new conversations and inputs will not be used to train our models.

9. SECURING YOUR DATA

We take the protection of your personal information seriously. We work hard to protect your personal information by using a variety of industry-standard security technologies to prevent unauthorized access or misuse.

All transmitted data are encrypted during transmission using industry-standard TLS protocols. For highly sensitive information such as passwords, we apply additional RSA encryption at the application layer for enhanced protection. Your data is stored on secure infrastructure provided by our cloud service provider, which maintains strict physical and network security controls. We also implement Web Application Firewall (WAF) protection to defend against common web threats and unauthorized access attempts.

While we implement robust security measures to protect your information, your data security is a shared responsibility. We encourage you to take simple precautions, such as regularly updating your passwords, using strong combinations of letters and numbers, browsing securely and adopting other protective measures.

Your privacy and security are important to us, and we are committed to doing our part in helping you safeguarding your data.

Third-party links and services

Please note that our privacy policy does not cover third-party websites or services, including any advertisers or external links you may encounter to or from our official sites.

These third parties may collect personal information independently, and we do not control how they operate. This Privacy Policy does not apply to such third-party services, and cannot control the activities of, those other advertisers or websites. We highly recommend that you read the privacy policy of such third-party websites which you may be directed to before providing any personal information.

10. CHILDREN'S PROTECTION

We are committed to protecting the privacy of young users. You must be at least the minimum age required by law in your jurisdiction to consent to the processing of your personal data ("valid digital consent"). Our games and services are intended for users who meet the minimum age required to provide valid digital consent in their country of residence.

To determine this, we may ask for information related to your age and location during signup. This helps us protect younger users and ensure they get the right experience for their age group.

The information below is for parents and guardians to understand our privacy practices with respect to children (under 13 or the age of valid digital consent under local laws, whichever is higher).

(1) Countries where we operate an Age-Gate

We strive to operate an age-gate in all countries where we provide our services in, where, when a user indicates that they are a child, we do not allow them to register an account with us. When operating an age-gate, the personal data we collect may include:

- Date of birth and country location to determine age and apply appropriate settings

- Persistent identifiers like IP address, UIDs, necessary website tracking technologies, and device identifiers in order to provide and maintain our services (including analytics to improve them), protect the security and integrity of users and ensure legal and regulatory compliance.

For clarity, the data indicated above (including persistent identifiers) will be collected and processed for the purposes stated and to support internal operations, for example, to trigger the age-gate and other internal operational purposes.

(2) Countries where we do not operate an Age-Gate

In countries where we are unable to operate an age-gate, users under the age of 13 (or the age of valid digital consent under local laws, whichever is higher) are not allowed to sign up for or use our services. For these countries, if you are 13 and above but are considered a minor in your country, you must have your parent or legal guardian read through with you and accept this Privacy Policy, and you represent that you have obtained the permission or consent of your parent or guardian to use our services.

Information to Parents and Legal Guardians

If you are a parent or legal guardian in a country where we do not operate an age-gate, please make sure that you have read this Privacy Policy before allowing your children to create their own accounts or to use our services. Once again, we emphasize that users under the age of 13 (or the age of valid digital consent under local laws, whichever is higher) are not allowed to sign up for or use our services. If your child uses our services, you agree that you will be subject to this Privacy Policy and be responsible for your children's activities while using our services. You agree to supervise your children's use of our services to ensure that they engage with content appropriately.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, we recognize that we have a special obligation to protect children regarding the collection and processing of personal data. We strongly urge parents and guardians to instruct their children never to disclose or give out their personal data when using our services without the prior permission of their parent or guardian. If you are a parent or guardian and have any concern regarding your child's use of our services, please contact us using the contact details under "Contact Us" below.

11. CHANGES TO PRIVACY POLICY

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time to reflect changes in our services, processes or to comply with new laws and regulations. We recommend checking it periodically to stay informed. If required by law or where necessary, we will notify you of updates and may ask for your consent again. If you have any questions or concerns about how we handle your personal data, please reach out to us using the contact details under "Contact Us". By continuing to use our services, you confirm that you understand how we process your personal data under the updated Privacy Policy.

12. CONTACT US

If you have any requests, questions or concerns about us, this Privacy Policy or how we handle your personal information, or you want to make any complaint or exercise your data subject rights, you can reach us by emailing help@anuttacon.com, or using the address below:

Company name: Anuttacon LLC

Address: 1975 W El Camino, Suite 306, Mountain View, California 94040, USA

13. SUPPLEMENTAL TERMS - JURISDICTION-SPECIFIC

(1) Additional Information for US Residents

(a) General

Data Retention

Where your data is required to be deleted in accordance with your request or where we are legally required to do so under applicable law or otherwise, we may retain certain personal information where permitted or required under law.

Your Rights and Choices

If you submit a request to us and you receive a response from us informing you that we have declined your request, in whole or in part, where provided by applicable law, you may appeal that decision by submitting your appeal using the contact method described in "Contact Us".

(b) Additional Information for California Residents

California Consumer Privacy Act. The CCPA requires us to provide our users who reside in California with the additional notice below. For the purposes of this notice, Personal Information means information that identifies, relates to, describes, is reasonably capable of being associated with, or could reasonably be linked, directly or indirectly, with a particular consumer or household, or as otherwise defined by the California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018 (California Civil Code Sections 1798.100 to 1798.199) and its implementing regulations, as amended or superseded from time to time ("CCPA").

Personal Information does not include information that is:

- Lawfully made available from government records.

- Deidentified or aggregated.

- Otherwise excluded from the scope of the CCPA.

If you are a California resident, and the processing of personal information about you is subject to the CCPA, you have certain rights with respect to that information:

- Notice at Collection. At or before the time of collection, you have a right to receive notice of our practices, including the categories of personal information and sensitive personal information to be collected [Section 1], the purposes for which such information is collected or used [Section 2], whether such information is sold or shared, and how long such information is retained [section entitled "Data Retention"]. You can find those details in this Privacy Policy by referring to this and the above-referenced sections.

- Right to Know. The right to request a copy of the personal information that we have collected about you in the prior 12 months. You also have a right to request additional information about our collection, use or disclosure of such personal information. Note that we have provided much of this information in this Privacy Policy. You may make such a "request to know" as described in the "Your Rights and Choices" section of this Privacy Policy.

- Rights to Request Correction or Deletion. You also have rights to request that we correct inaccurate personal information and that we delete personal information under certain circumstances, subject to a number of exceptions including legal and regulatory reasons and security and fraud prevention. To make a request to correct or delete, please do so using our game/non-game account information functionality or email us using the contact information in "Contact Us" section of this Privacy Policy.

- Right to Limit Use and Disclosure of Sensitive Personal Information. You have a right to limit our use of sensitive personal information for any purposes other than to provide the services or goods you request or as otherwise permitted by law. Note that we do not use sensitive personal information for any such additional purposes.

You may designate, in writing or through a power of attorney, an authorized agent to make requests on your behalf to exercise your rights under the CCPA. Before accepting such a request from an agent, we will require the agent to provide proof you have authorized them to act on your behalf, and we may need you to verify your identity directly with us.

Further, to provide, correct, or delete specific pieces of personal information we will need to verify your identity to the degree of certainty required by law. We will verify your request through common market practices, including by asking you to send it from the email address associated with your account or requiring you to provide information necessary to verify your account.

You have the right not to receive discriminatory treatment for the exercise of your CCPA privacy rights, subject to certain limitations.

Additionally, under California Civil Code Section 1798.83, also known as the "Shine the Light" law, California residents who have provided personal information to a business with which the individual has established a business relationship for personal, family, or household purposes ("California Customers") may request information about whether the business has disclosed personal information to any third parties for the third parties' direct marketing purposes.

Please be aware that we do not disclose personal information to any third parties for their direct marketing purposes as defined by this law.

California Customers may request further information about our compliance with this law by emailing the address provided in the "Contact Us" section above. Please note that businesses are required to respond to one request per California Customer each year and may not be required to respond to requests made by means other than through the designated email address.

California residents under the age of 18 who are registered users of online sites, services, or applications have a right under California Business and Professions Code Section 22581 to remove, or request and obtain removal of, content or information they have publicly posted. To remove content or information you have publicly posted, or to request that we remove such content or information, please send us a detailed description of the specific content or information you wish to have removed using the details provided in the "Contact Us" section above. Please be aware that your request does not guarantee complete or comprehensive removal of content or information posted online and that the law may not permit or require removal in certain circumstances.

An authorized agent may submit an access or deletion request on your behalf by sending a written authorization signed by you using the contact information in the "Contact Us" section. We may still require you to directly verify your identity and confirm that you provided the authorized agent’s permission to submit the request.

(2) Additional Information for the EEA and UK residents

If you are in the European Economic Area (EEA) or the United Kingdom (UK), the following additional information applies to you in addition to the Privacy Policy set out above.

Data Subject Rights

In addition to the information set out in the "Your rights and choices" section in the Privacy Policy above, you have the right to:

- ask us to restrict the processing of your personal data,

- data portability,

- to object to the processing of personal data.

Legal basis for processing your personal data

Our legal basis for collecting and using the information described in Section 1 for the purposes in Section 2 of our Privacy Policy above is:

- To establish and perform our contract with you (i.e. our Terms of Service) and to provide our services;

- For our or our partners' legitimate interests, where those interests are not overridden by your data protection interests of fundamental rights and freedoms, e.g. to protect our legal rights, to pursue or defend legal claims, to improve our services;

- Consent, where obtained separately;

- For compliance with our legal obligations under applicable laws and regulations;

- To protect our or your vital interests or those of another person (for example, another player), e.g. against fraud and violations of our terms;

- We do not intentionally collect sensitive or special category personal information. If we ever do, it will be only with your explicit consent or where required by law. Where we rely on a legitimate interest for the processing of your data, we have performed a legitimate interest assessment to determine whether your interests outweigh our interests in the processing taking place. You can obtain more information about this balancing test by using the contact details under 'Contact Us'.

If you have questions, need further information about the legal bases for processing your personal information, or want to withdraw your consent, please see "Contact Us" in the Privacy Policy above.

Cross-border data transfer

As a global company, your personal data may be transferred or accessed by our affiliates, third party service providers and partners that operate around the world, which are located in countries other than the country in which you are resident (e.g. Singapore). These countries may have data protection laws that are different to the laws of your country.

Where we transfer your personal information to countries and territories outside of the European Economic Area and the UK, which have been formally recognised as providing an adequate level of protection for personal information, we rely on the relevant "adequacy decisions" from the European Commission, where applicable.

Where the transfer is not subject to an adequacy decision, we have taken appropriate safeguards to require that your personal information will remain protected in accordance with this Privacy Policy. The safeguards we use are the European Commission's Standard Contractual Clauses as issued on 4 June 2021, including the UK Addendum, and/or the UK International Data Transfer Agreement permitted under Article 46 of the UK GDPR. This is how transfers of personal information between us and other companies will be safeguarded. All companies are required to protect personal information that they process from Europe in accordance with European Union data protection law. Transferred personal information includes basic information such as your name or contact information such as your email address.

Children's Notice

Our services are not marketed to, or intended for, children. Children for the purposes of our services are (a) under the age of 13 years old or, if older (b) between 13 and 18 years old but under the age at which they can give valid digital consent to processing of their personal information under applicable data privacy laws. We strive to follow the different minimum age guidelines set by the laws of individual regions when determining the age that children can access certain features of our services.

Children are not permitted to use our services, and we do not knowingly collect any personal information from children. Though our services are not intended for children as the primary audience, we may collect age information before allowing a user to proceed for certain services. If we learn that we have inadvertently gathered personal information about a child that is not subject to an exemption under applicable privacy law, we will take measures to promptly remove that information from our records.

Data Protection Supervisory Authority

To lodge a complaint with your national or regional data protection supervisory authority, please contact the competent authority.

(3) Additional Information for Residents of Japan

If you are located in Japan, please see the information below with regard to international data transfers as described in the section of this privacy policy entitled "Data Retention", in accordance with Article 28(2) of the Japanese Act on the Protection of Personal Information.

(a) the name of the countries where the data recipients are located (headquartered)

Singapore

(b) the personal information protection systems of such foreign countries

See the link below: https://www.ppc.go.jp/personalinfo/legal/kaiseihogohou/#gaikoku

(c) the measures to be taken by the data recipients

We will ensure that third parties in foreign countries to which we transfer your personal data take all measures corresponding to the eight principles of the OECD privacy guidelines.

(4) Additional Information for residents of South Korea

If you are in South Korea, the following additional information applies to you in addition to the Privacy Policy set out above.

Destruction of Your Personal Data

If we determine that your personal data is no longer needed, we will destroy it under the supervision of our chief privacy officer and in accordance with applicable law and the Privacy Policy. Personal data in the form of electronic files will be securely deleted using technical methods to prevent recovery and reproduction, and printouts will be destroyed by shredding or incineration.

Data Subjects Rights

In addition to the information set out in the "Your rights and choices" section in the Privacy Policy above, you have the following rights:

Right to Request the Suspension of Processing

You may have the right to request the suspension of processing of your personal data that we have collected and processed. However, such a request may be denied under applicable laws or regulations.

In many circumstances, we need to process your personal data in order to provide you with the services you require. If you do not provide the necessary personal data, or if you request the suspension of its processing for these purposes, we may be unable to continue providing you with the services you require.
